

Can't see any image? Click to view online

- The Lake Turkana National Parks and Mount Kenya National Park and Natural Forest were made World Heritage Sites in 1997. Lamu Old Town and the Sacred Mijikenda Kaya Forests were added to UNESCO's World Heritage List in 2001 and 2008, respectively.
- Fort Jesus – constructed by the Portuguese in the late 1500s – and the Kenya Lake System in Kenya's Rift Valley were both added to the World Heritage List in June 2011.
- UNESCO's World Heritage List includes 936 properties around the world that form "part of the cultural and natural heritage which the World Heritage Committee regards as having outstanding universal value."

Source: AFP

Source: AFP

Source: UNESCO

To learn more about Kenya
visit www.kenya.info

Did you know? Kenya is home to six United Nations Educational, Sci... <http://www.designab.com/kenya/postcards/22/postcards-from-kenya-...>

&

This material is distributed by Chlopek, Leonard, Schachter & Associates on behalf of the Office of the President of the Republic of Kenya. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.

2011 JUL -5 AM 8:12